

e2f Onsite Multilingual Staffing

Do you need a French game tester?

A Japanese website QA specialist?

A multilingual project manager?

Whether you need a single resource for a week or a team of ten for six months, with e2f you don't have to handle the hassle of recruitment.

*We do the job postings, screening interviews, linguistic testing and paperwork.
We ensure all candidates have the equivalent fluency of a native speaker.*

You create it. We globalize it.

e2f Contractors as Part of Your Human Resources Strategy

The critical decision to staff with independent contractors is a complex consideration of project pipeline management, long-term/short-term or part-time/full-time work, tax compliance, benefits, legal exposure, intellectual property rights, control over conduct of work, and staffing flexibility.

Each company has their own human resources strategy for these decisions. Once you make the decision to ramp up your localization team through independent contractors, e2f has the expertise to help make your contracting decision the most effective one for your business.

Our multilingual staffing program ensures all candidates have been pre-tested for their linguistic fluency in the language(s) you specify, both oral and written. Once you interview and approve a candidate, they are employed by e2f, which means your company benefits from the flexibility of a contractor hire, while e2f remains responsible for human resources management.

Meeting Your Immediate Needs

- Experience: e2f has over a dozen years track record in the localization industry.
- Ready-to-Ramp: e2f can seat crucial staff in as short as a day, or find dozens at a time.
- Pre-Screened: e2f pre-screens applicants for their linguistic expertise.
